

Lisa A. Rickard

President, U.S. Chamber Institute for Legal Reform
President, Workforce Freedom Initiative
Executive Vice President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Lisa A. Rickard is one of the U.S. Chamber's top leaders on a wide range of issues, with a strong focus on legal reform. She plays a significant role in maintaining the Chamber's long-term position as the world's most influential advocate for business.

Rickard has served as president of the U.S. Chamber Institute for Legal Reform (ILR) since 2003. Under her leadership, ILR has developed from a strong national legal reform organization into a comprehensive, multifaceted global legal reform campaign with cutting-edge legislative advocacy, communications, and voter education initiatives.

In addition, Rickard has grown ILR's annual Legal Reform Summit into a premier showcase of ideas and issues for the movement, and she established an initiative to reform the overzealous federal and state civil and criminal enforcement regimes.

Rickard's notable accomplishments include leading the effort to enact the landmark Class Action Fairness Act law in 2005; presiding over the creation and expansion of the Madison County Record enterprise—a wholly owned ILR subsidiary chain of nine legal newspapers that count millions of readers annually; and guiding the global expansion of ILR into Europe, Asia, Australia, and the Americas.

Previously, Rickard led government affairs practices for Fortune 500 companies Dow Chemical and Ryder System, Inc. She was a partner in the Washington, D.C., law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer & Feld, and she worked on Capitol Hill for two senators.

Rickard has received multiple honors, including two from The National Law Journal, naming her as one of the nation's Most Influential Lawyers (one of only four in the Government Affairs practice area) and one of Washington's Most Influential Women Lawyers. In 2015, Rickard received the Burton Foundation Legend in Law award. She serves on the board of directors of the Carlton Club, is a member of the Business Government Relations Council, International Association of Defense Counsel, and International Women's Forum, and is an honorary board member of the Burton Awards.

Rickard graduated from Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania, and received her law degree from American University in Washington, D.C., where she was executive editor of the Law Review. She is a member of the District of Columbia Bar.

U.S. CHAMBER

Institute for Legal Reform

1615 H Street, NW
Washington, DC 20062

202-463-5724

www.instituteforlegalreform.com

ILR's mission is to restore balance, ensure justice, and maintain integrity within the civil legal system by championing common sense legal reforms at the state, federal, and global levels.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is the world's largest business federation representing the interests of more than 3 million businesses of all sizes, sectors, and regions, as well as state and local chambers and industry associations.